There is no cure for grief. But within each of us is the capacity to heal a broken heart. Grief is both a universal experience and a uniquely individual experience. The death of a family member or friend is something all of us will face at some point, but how each of us responds to that loss will be very different. At Bo’s place, we believe that while each individual must be free to grieve in their own way, no one needs to grieve alone. Bo’s place grief support services offer compassion, support, remembrance, acceptance, understanding, warmth, sharing, empathy, tenderness, kindness, comfort, solace, encouragement, hope…and healing.

Bo’s Place is a nonprofit bereavement center offering grief support services to children, families and adults. Founded in 1990, Bo’s Place exists to enhance the lives of those who have experienced the death of a loved one. Bo’s Place programs are based on the belief that sharing experiences with others in grief helps individuals navigate the grief journey and move towards hope and healing.

grief support groups

Grief support groups at Bo’s Place are designed to provide bereaved children, families and adults a safe place to express their thoughts and feelings in an honest way with others on a similar journey. This process cultivates courage, instills hope, and fortifies those in grief so that, even in the midst of sorrow, there is rediscovered joy and renewed hope for the future.

It is in these groups that the “magic” of Bo’s Place happens.

LIGHT family groups

LIGHT (Looking Inward Grieving Healing Together) Family Groups are for children, ages 5-18, and their families who have experienced the sudden and unexpected death of a child or parent. These groups meet weekly for nine weeks. Families completing a LIGHT Group may transfer to an ongoing group.

information and referral line

The Information and Referral Line at Bo’s Place offers a compassionate ear for those who seek information about the grief process, about Bo’s Place grief programs, or about other community grief support resources. Clinicians answer calls and inquiries from those who have experienced a death, as well as from family, friends, co-workers or other concerned individuals who want guidance as to how to support the bereaved.

_The Information and Referral Line is accessible Monday through Friday during business hours._

community education and training

Bo’s Place offers Community Education and Training opportunities for professionals and volunteers working to support those in grief. Workshops and trainings, conducted by clinical staff and/or field experts, can be customized for a variety of audiences including:

- Medical and Social Service Professionals
- School Personnel
- Faith-Based Communities
- Community Organizations and Volunteer Groups

Bo’s Place training programs seek to increase understanding of the grief process and to offer guidance about how to support the bereaved. Offerings range from short presentations about Bo’s Place grief support to full day continuing education workshops for professionals.

_Contact Bo’s Place for information on upcoming workshops or to schedule a presentation. Trainings are available both at Bo’s Place and offsite. Most Bo’s Place educational opportunities are offered free of charge. Continuing Education Units (CEUs) are available at some workshops for a minimal fee._
Volunteer Facilitators

Bo’s Place Volunteer Facilitators are at the heart of what we do. Under the direction of Bo’s Place clinicians, these volunteers lead grief support groups for children, families and adults. Volunteer Facilitators attend a Volunteer Information Session, followed by a 28+ hour training. They must commit to a minimum of one year service and be at least 22 years old. Both English speaking and bilingual facilitators (English/Spanish) are needed.

Kitchen Volunteer

Bo’s Place grief support groups begin with a shared meal. Kitchen Volunteers help set up a buffet style meal which is most often potluck. Following the meal, volunteers prepare leftover food for families to take home and tidy the kitchen. Kitchen Volunteers must be at least 15 years old.

Meal Sponsors

Meal Sponsors provide and serve a meal for grief group families or participants (60-90 people). These meals are a special treat and provide an alternative to the traditional potluck-style meal at Bo’s Place. Meal Sponsors may also decorate the dining area for special occasions or holidays, or prepare goodie bags for the children.

Special Project Volunteers

Special Project Volunteers provide support to Bo’s Place in a variety of ways including assistance with fundraising efforts, help at special events, activity or material preparation, and administrative and clerical support.

Quilters

Bo’s Place Memory Quilts allow grief support group members to commemorate their loved one. Decorated quilt squares are assembled by volunteer quilters and the resulting quilts are displayed on the walls throughout Bo’s Place as a colorful and touching memorial to those who have died.

Bo’s Place welcomes individuals or groups of volunteers. If you are interested in volunteering at Bo’s Place, please contact the Volunteer Coordinator at 713.942.8339 or by email at volunteer@bosplace.org.
