about the speaker:

Courtney Reynolds, LCSW is the Special Programs Manager of Bo's Place. Courtney coordinates the Wednesday night family support groups along with other special programs for families, including camps and retreats.

synopsis:

The cohesiveness of individuals working together can determine the productivity, safety, and success of the group. Team Building allows a group to form bonds which can result in a higher level of understanding, trust, and healing. Through experiential activities, participants will learn exercises that can be translated into your staff environment, volunteer culture, support or therapy groups, camp cabins and other supportive programming. Come prepared to move and communicate, as this will be an interactive workshop!

workshop objectives:

- Identify ways to create a cohesive group culture.
- Describe ways to cultivate bonding and support building.
- Discuss the benefits of team building with staff, volunteers, participants, and in programming environments.

Bo's Place exists to enhance the lives of those who have experienced the death of a loved one.

where hearts are healed.
