about the speakers:

Cristina Flores, LCSW is the Bilingual Ongoing Groups Manager at Bo's Place, where she has worked since 2015. Cristina manages the ongoing family group program and coordinates one of the Spanish speaking groups.

Flor Guebara, LCSW is the Spanish Outreach Manager at Bo's Place, where she has worked since 2014. Flor manages the Spanish-speaking programming and outreach to Hispanic/Latino families, along with the school based program.

synopsis:

Over the past five years, Bo's Place has offered grief support groups in Spanish to better meet the needs of Houston's growing Spanish-speaking population. This presentation will provide detailed information on grief in the Latino culture, including discussion on the cultural considerations to take into account when working with the Latino bereaved community. Examples of culturally appropriate activities and group themes will also be provided.

objectives:

- Participants will be able to describe grief in the Latino culture.
- Participants will be able to interpret the different ways grief and loss can be defined in the Latino community.
- Participants will be able to distinguish and discuss numerous Latino cultural values that may impact the grief journey.

Bo's Place exists to enhance the lives of those who have experienced the death of a loved one.

where hearts are healed.
